Focus Areas & Eligibility

We invest in organizations working in the following areas:

Community inclusion: Organizations working to increase the social and economic participation of marginalized members of the community such as Indigenous people, newcomers, disadvantaged women or youth and people living with disabilities.

Environmental sustainability: Organizations working to create positive solutions to environmental concerns.

Community enterprise development: Cooperatives and social enterprises (revenue-generating businesses owned/operated by non-profits primarily for the purpose of achieving social, economic, cultural or environmental goals).

The Board may from time to time and for defined periods of time establish priorities for grant-making that focus on certain areas and aspects of the criteria outlined. Our current priorities are: • services for disadvantaged children • services for women dealing with addictions and/or abuse • services for the physically or mentally challenged • development of micro-enterprise projects • projects to protect the environment

We donate at least 1% of our pre-tax income to charity every year. The organizations which we select to receive our support fall into five core areas:

-United Way

-Education

-Health & Wellness

-Arts & Culture

-Community Care

Canada Green Corps is a youth employment programme, designed to assist employers with hiring a talented young professionals.

We support initiatives that benefit Canadians from coast-to-coast; those which align with our core values which include the following pillars:

Arts and culture

Education

Health and wellness

Community development

Social services

The Foundation supports projects and programs dedicated to improved social services, health, education and the betterment of the community.

One of the Foundation's granting program focuses on youth. The Foundation will support projects in education, social services, and art and culture designed to assist young people who do not have the same opportunities due to social or economic circumstances, as other youth, to develop to their fullest potential. The Carolyn Sifton Foundation also has a General Program to support some exceptional projects that do not fall within the goals of the Youth Program and that have been identified by a board member.

The Catherine Donnelly Foundation is committed to promoting positive social change by funding a combination of programs and projects in our priority areas of Environment, Housing, Adult Education and Impact Investing. Our efforts in this respect are intended to promote joint action and networking by enabling key institutional actors to combine their efforts, to build on one another's strengths, constituencies and common experiences in pursuit of social change objectives.

Carthy Foundation has four funding areas:
Adolescent Emotional Health and Wellness.
Transitions to Employment for Youth and Young Adults.
Urban Environmental Sustainability.
Environmentally Sustainable Agriculture.

The Chawkers Foundation's objectives are to aid charities across Canada working in the fields of environmental research and protection, and of education. The foundation has also prioritized support for long-form non-fiction and journalism.

CIBC will consider funding for Canadian registered charities or non-profit organizations that use the funds within Canada only. Organizations must have audited financial statements, sound financial practices, and a sustainable funding model. Projects must be supported by a measurement and evaluation process. Projects must also be aligned to cancer, persons with disabilities, financial literacy, or Indigenous communities.

Areas of Focus:

Social Wellness: We promote the social well-being and health of Canadians, with a particular focus on mental health for youth aged 18-25.

Financial Security: We foster financial security for Canadians through risk mitigation, co-operative business development, and skill-building and employment opportunities.

Environmental Prosperity: We scale initiatives that are designed to encourage environmental sustainability and reduce risks related to climate change.

In 2019, the Donner Canadian Foundation supported more than 70 charitable organizations. The Foundation devoted over 40 percent of its granting to environment and wildlife stewardship and 18 percent to public policy research and education. The Foundation also directed almost 10 percent of its granting toward international development and human rights and almost 20 percent to organizations delivering social services. The Foundation's remaining grants sustained a variety of worthy projects.

1. Employer must be Canadian owned or Canadian subsidiary
2. Must be a new full-time, permanent position for a new employee
3. Must be an environmentally-related position in STEM and/or Natural Resources
4. Cannot be an existing full-time, permanent employee
5. Candidate must be unemployed or underemployed, aged 30 or under, and eligible to work in Canada

Funding is for paid work terms. Work terms can be full time or part time from 6 – 16 weeks. Additional funding may be available for employers who hire student from one of the following groups: Women in STEM, Indigenous People, Persons with Disabilities, First-year Students, Recent Immigrants (Permanent resident or refugee status).

Project-based

To apply for funding, projects must meet the following criteria:
Be a registered non-profit or charitable organization
Support charitable projects or events that are making an impact in the communities of Calgary, Edmonton, Regina, Saskatoon and Winnipeg

Partners of The Gordon Foundation are as diverse as the communities we work with, and include a variety of public and private sector supporters. If you are passionate about the North or protecting Canada's water, we want to hear from you. From short-term partnership opportunities to longer-term program support, we are interested in building relationships with individuals, organizations, and communities that share a passion for the work we do.

Guidelines:

Hospitals for items needed, research and training
Societies for the rescue and care of neglected/abused animals
Societies for the preservation of a species of animals
Teaching facilities such as public/private schools, university projects and scholarships
Societies for the care of abused children and sick children
Societies for the arts/sciences and sports
Societies associated with environmental issues
Societies associated with senior facilities and/or senior services

The Intact Foundation focuses on three areas where our generosity can have a significant impact – adapting to a changing climate, addressing the root causes of child poverty and empowering employees to help their communities. For climate grants, we prioritized projects that:

- use natural infrastructure as part of their solutions
- aim to create practical and effective solutions
- take a community engagement approach
- help Canadians understand the climate risk(s) they are facing

Funded by the Government of Canada, the Investment Readiness Program (IRP) supports social purpose organizations as they contribute to solving pressing social, cultural and environmental challenges across Canada. Its goal is to help social purpose organizations build their capacity to participate in Canada’s growing social finance market and prepare for the Government of Canada’s broader investment in social finance via the Social Finance Fund. The IRP can help you develop your social enterprise and make an even bigger impact. The IRP will help social enterprises to design, measure, and scale in order to get ready to accept investments.

The mission of the Economy and Environment Program is to help create a shared vision for Canada’s future that integrates the economy and environment. The Environment Program supports Canada’s transition to a sustainable economy by identifying opportunities to enhance resource efficiency, foster innovation and advance the field of sustainable finance. The Foundation will support research and collaboration that foster wide public and business engagement around what a sustainable economy might look like, turning the “why” of a transition into a well-accepted “how” of transition. This includes supporting new voices, identifying champions, promoting positive solutions and communicating widely.

Grants are awarded to projects or endeavours in the following areas:

- Canadian Culture and Heritage
- Education
- Health and Medicine
- Religion
- Social Services
- Contemporary Society Concerns (environment, parliamentary democracy, public affairs, and native concerns, amongst others)

The Jewish Foundation has several granting streams:

- Jewish Community & Ongoing Grants
- Women's Endowment Fund Grants
- General Community Grants
- Special Grants
- Seniors' Transportation Grants

The Johansen-Larsen Foundation has been established to provide funding for educational initiatives related to marginalized children and youth, and animals at risk. Specifically, funding is to be allocated to transformative and sustainable educational initiatives offered in Canada for:

Marginalized children and youth to empower them to overcome the barriers they may face in their lives; and

Others to learn about social injustices facing the most vulnerable human and animal members of our society, in order to foster engagement and action in addressing issues related to poverty, marginalization and/or inhumane treatment.

Not specified

The Lawson Foundation is a Canadian family foundation that invests in and engages with ideas, people and organizations that contribute to the healthy development of children and youth. Focus Areas include: early child development, child and youth diabetes, outdoor play, youth and the environment

The Lloyd Carr-Harris Foundation's areas of focus are education, music and medical research.

The Loblaw Water Fund is designed to help improve the health of freshwater ecosystems across Canada, including lakes, rivers, streams, wetlands and surrounding riparian zones, and to reduce the threats they face.

Projects must clearly demonstrate how they will support the healthy development and personal growth opportunities of vulnerable children and youth living in Greater Winnipeg. Priority will be given to programs that involve those affected (children and youth) in the planning, development, governance and outcome evaluation of the program, based upon the conviction that successful change is enhanced through their active participation.

We support organizations working in the following three areas:

Animal protection

Recognize animals as sentient beings, deserving of care and protection, and who should not be subjected to cruelty or exploitation for human gain.

Environmental justice

Defending the rights of nature and standing up for a healthy, sustainable environment for future generations.

Human rights

Stand for the rights, visibility and equality of all people worldwide and for the defense of those most vulnerable.

The Foundation has the discretion to approve grants for projects or programs that align with the objects of the Foundation to encourage and promote legal education, legal research, legal aid services, law reform and the development and maintenance of law libraries.

The McCain Foundation has a deep appreciation for the contributions rural communities have made to McCain Foods Limited, especially those near production facilities in the Atlantic Provinces, Alberta and Manitoba. The Foundation's efforts are focused on addressing challenges in these regions and empowering communities. Areas of Focus:

Arts & Culture

Community Services

Education

Environment

Health & Welfare

McConnell funds initiatives and partnerships that advance the common good, making grants to organizations and individuals focused on sustainable solutions to complex problems. Additionally, our Social Innovation Fund is open to any organization that is proposing to scale up a promising solution, or that is introducing a new business model.

Grants made by the Foundation are restricted to organizations which are recognized by Canada Revenue Agency as "charitable organizations" and which are able to provide a registration number. The Directors endeavor to maintain a flexible policy, with particular emphasis on projects showing promise of general social benefit but which may initially lack broad public appeal.

Your project or initiative is eligible if it supports the following priorities:
Identify and reduce barriers in responsible outdoor activity and increase the community of active outdoor enthusiasts.
Teach responsible outdoor recreation practices and environmental stewardship.

We support natural climate solutions that take an integrated approach to benefit biodiversity, sustain livelihoods, and mitigate climate change. This work is rooted in community knowledge and leadership, informed by cutting-edge research and cross-sector collaboration, and championed through advocacy efforts across Canada.

A registered charity in Canada or otherwise registered as a "qualified donee" as defined in the Income Tax Act (Canada); and Aligned to the mission and vision of the Foundation, with programs that focus on making a positive and healthy impact on youth in your community

Patagonia supports environmental organizations with bold, direct-action agendas and a commitment to long-term change.
We support innovative work that addresses the root causes of the environmental crisis and seeks to protect both the environment and affected communities. We focus on places where we've built connections through outdoor recreation and through our network of retail stores, nationally and internationally.

Grants are made to charitable, non-profit organizations with the major emphasis on projects and programs in the areas of education, health care, religion, social welfare and youth.

We Fund:

- Organizations that are registered charities in their jurisdictions
- Projects or programs that take place in communities where RBC has a business presence
- Charitable organizations that provide direct community benefit
- Programs with measurable social outcomes
- RBC funds programs and projects rather than bricks and mortar

The main interests of the Foundation are in the areas of arts and culture, education, environment, medical, and social services. Innovation is considered to be one of the key elements of a proposal.

Annually, our Community Investment Committee identifies key areas of giving dependent on the needs of our community and social and environmental issues.

- Applicants must be a charity or non-profit and community organization.
- The organization must operate and serve within the general trading area of Red River Co-op (Winnipeg, Lorette, Oakbank, Headingley, Stonewall, Selkirk, Niverville, Gimli, Teulon, Ste. Agathe, Dryden, Kenora).
- Community level donations will have priority over national donations.
- Special considerations may be given to groups that adhere to co-operative principles.

Vision and mission statement focus on helping create sustainable futures for registered Canadian charitable organizations in the Visual and Performing Arts, Education, Youth Initiatives and Environmental Issues.

Our primary long term focus is youth environmental education. We complement our education efforts by supporting strategic projects that have a direct and measurable impact on biodiversity restoration, protection and conservation.

Stantec has a commitment to building better communities. They contribute to four core areas: arts, education, environment, and health and wellness.

Organizations eligible to receive funding:

- Registered Canadian charities with a Charitable Registration Number (CRN)
- Educational institutions (primary/secondary/post-secondary)
- Municipalities
- Indigenous groups/communities

The Foundation supports a wide range of environmental initiatives, with a primary focus on environmental education and green space programs. Eligible projects include schoolyard greening, park revitalization, community gardens, park programming and citizen science initiatives.

Under environment grants, water is prioritized, however other grants are made at the discretion of the Foundation

The main interests of the Trottier Foundation are in the following areas:

- Science
- Environment
- Health
- Education

Cross-cutting or intersecting projects are viewed positively.

We also support some community and international projects, especially those that have a science, environment, health or education component.

The Trottier Family Foundation's grant making and investment activities are focused on assisting organizations that are working to systematically address the following:

- Advancing scientific inquiry and scientific education;
- Promoting the importance of education in society, primarily STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering, Math);
- Mitigating the threats caused by climate change, particularly with a focus on the transition towards a low carbon economy;
- Advancing towards a healthy society;
- Incorporating the promotion of science, education, health and the environment in grants made to the Montreal community and internationally.

Community funding is for communities and non-profit partners of the Alliance. Community project funding can support a variety of community priorities including, but not limited to: research, land-based activities, community events, documentation, education, policy, and evaluation work.
