Dear Manitoba Eco-Network supporters,

As we forge ahead into another year of pandemic recovery and emerging change, we continue to be humbled and heartened by the support of our Manitoba Eco-Network community of supporters. Despite the challenges of the past few years, we are busier than ever with projects underway. Some of our projects include:

- Continuation of the Navigating the Law to Protect the Environment toolkit;
- Launching a new story board map, Canoeing the Manigotagan River;
- Launching the Healthy Environment, Healthy Neighbourhoods project;
- Co-hosting a series on the Future of Food and Farming in Manitoba;
- Supporting and engaging in numerous policy advocacy campaigns over the year.

These and many other projects have kept us active all year, and more vital work is expected to develop in 2022.

This past year's extreme drought in Manitoba and dramatic weather events elsewhere have shown us that our work is vital for making changes and holding government accountable for following through on their policies. We are also becoming more focused on projects that empower communities to access environmental justice, which is a clear need for people who are disproportionately affected by pollution and climate disasters. It is impossible to separate the health of the environment from the health of communities, and many vulnerable communities will feel the impact of climate change more quickly than others.

We expect our community-based advocacy projects to only increase in the coming years as climate change becomes more intense. Your support is needed now more than ever to sustain and grow the Manitoba Eco-Network in a critical moment for our environment.

We appreciate that these are difficult times for many of you in our community. If you are able, please support the Manitoba Eco-Network by making a donation or, even better, by becoming a monthly donor. You can make donations on our website, on our Giving Tuesday page, or by sending a cheque to: Manitoba Eco-Network 3rd Floor – 303 Portage Avenue, Winnipeg Manitoba R3B 2B4

Finally, we are deeply grateful to all of our board members, volunteers, supporters, and donors who have helped us along the way. We see first-hand how much we can
